NOTE TO POWERS.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 6.--The council of ministers held a long session this morning to consider the action of Bulgaria in declaring her independence of Turkey at Plovdiv today. It was decided that it was impossible to accept any proposals that violated existing treaties and that Turkey should address a formal note to the powers pointing out the necessity of taking measures to enforce respect for the treaty of Berlin.

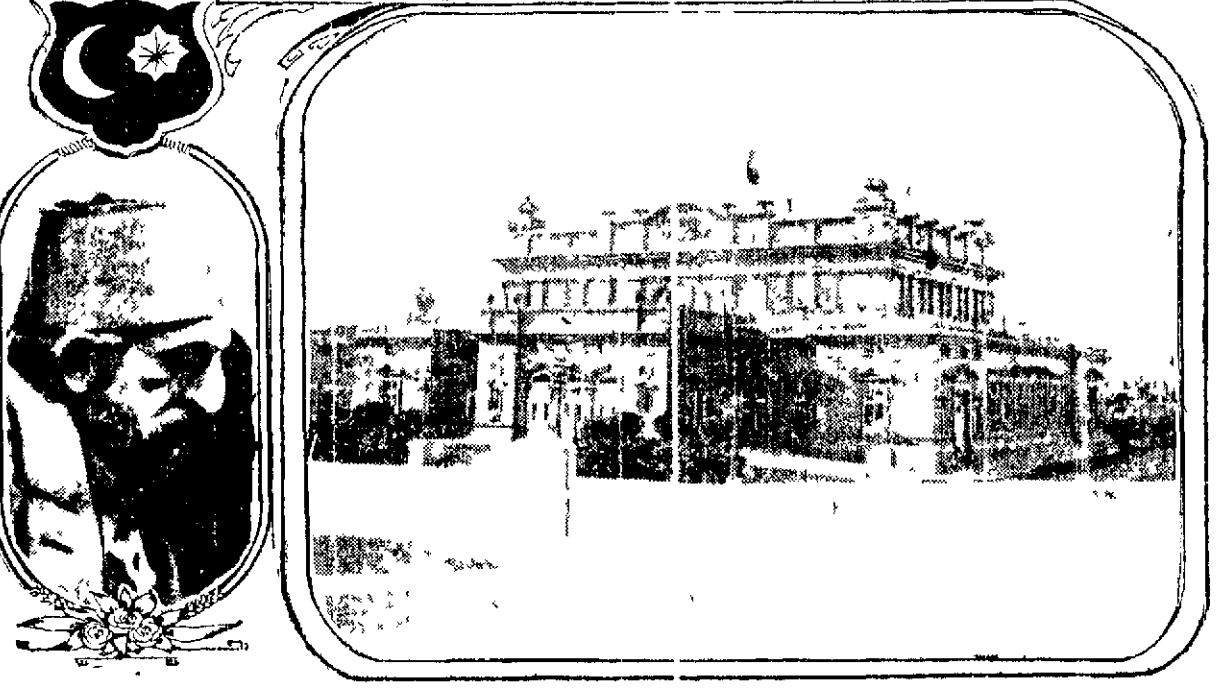

WILL LOOK TO POWERS

Replying to the terms sent to the Turkish government by Prince Ferdinand, in which he said that in declaring the independence of Bulgaria he had been compelled to respect the voice of the nation and expressed the hope that the friendly relations between the two countries would continue, Turkey said she has invited the powers to confer on the situation and as her rights are guaranteed by the powers she will look to them for their defense.

THE WIFE WILL RECOVER

Husband Was a Heavy Drinker and Had Squandered Property. (Special to THE TRIBUNE.) SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.--Struggling for the possession of a pistol pointed at her by her infuriated husband, Mrs. Viola Peters was overpowered by the superior strength of the man and was shot three times at 8:15 this morning at the corner of Eddy and Webster streets. The would-be murderer then turning his revolver upon himself and firing a bullet into his brain, which resulted in instant death.

SHE WILL RECOVER. The woman, although seriously injured, is expected to recover. William Peters, who was a tailor by occupation, lived with his wife at 3040 Mission street, where he also had his place of business up to September 25, when, owing to his liking for intoxicating liquors and the discovery that he had no money in the bank, led his wife to leave him and resulted in the disposal of the business.

The woman had been working for eighteen months as a fitter at Frank Bros. clothing house on Fillmore street, and the couple had intended to purchase a home with the money. But when Mrs. Peters discovered that her husband had spent every cent of their savings, she decided to leave him and went to live with a friend, Mrs. Nellie Rudolph, at 1363 Eddy street, while the man took up his residence at Oak and Gough streets. WANTED MONEY. Last Saturday he has come to his wife for money since their separation, and he has frequently given her what he asked, but finally told her last week that unless he voted differently she would not supply his wants again. Malicious because she would not return to him, he waited for her this morning at the corner of Eddy and Webster streets until he saw her on her way to work accompanied by her friend Mrs. Rudolph. Just as they passed the saloon on the corner he stepped from the doorway and accosted his wife all one time, keeping his hand in a pocket of his coat. "Give me a dollar, Viola," he asked. "No, I will not," replied the woman, while Mrs. Rudolph, frightened at the man's appearance, ran hastily up the street and took refuge in the office of a transfer company. Angered at his wife's refusal, Peters drew a revolver from his pocket and quickly cocked the weapon. His wife cowered with him for a moment, but during the struggle he succeeded in pulling the trigger, the bullet striking her in the wrist, and rebounding.

CITY WINS IMPORTANT POINT IN PARK CONDEMNATION SUIT

Judge Harris Refuses to Allow Defendants to Base Figures on Potential Values if Marsh Were Filled.

The city of Oakland achieved another victory this morning in its suit to condemn property at Twelfth and Fallon streets, owned by Edson P. and John Charles Adams, and others, for park purposes, by a ruling of Judge Harris which prevented the defendants from showing what would be the valuation of the property in question, which is now an unsightly swamp and quagmire, if it should be raised to grade.

There was a lengthy argument on the admissibility of evidence on this point yesterday afternoon by Messrs. Chapman and McDonald of counsel for the defendants, both of whom quoted decisions thought to have a bearing upon this issue.

SUSTAINS THE CITY.

At that time Judge Harris intimated that he did not think that evidence of the kind referred to ought to be allowed.

This morning the court followed up the intimation of yesterday by sustaining the objection of the city's attorneys to the proposition of the defendants.

Prior to the court's ruling, however, Attorney Chapman of counsel for the city did not contend that they were entitled to the full value of the property if it should be raised to grade. In order to get at the valuation of the land, Mr. Chapman said that the valuation would be as much less as it cost to fill it. He would undertake to prove what it would cost to fill the property.

STOPS ARGUMENT.

Attorney Snook was proceeding to argue in opposition to the stand taken by Messrs. Chapman and McDonald, but Judge Harris declared that he did not desire to hear arguments in conversation. He would sustain the objection of counsel for the city and decide that evidence of the valuation as suggested by Chapman's question could not be introduced. The defendants would have to prove the value of the property on the 1st of November, 1907, when the summons was issued.

The court ordered the question propounded by Mr. Chapman on the subject late yesterday afternoon to J. T. Bell, and which was objected to by the city's attorneys, and which finally resulted in the decision this morning referred to. The question was read by the stenographer and showed that Mr. Bell was expected to estimate the value of the property in question on the assumption that it was filled to grade.

TAKE EXCEPTION.

Messrs. Chapman and McDonald took exception, and then Civil Engineer Hamilton was placed on the stand to testify as to the general character of the land with respect to the depression in comparison with the surrounding property.

"FRA DIAVOLO" IS SUCCESS AT IDORA

Persse-Mason Opera Company Scores Hit in Tuneful Piece at Park Theater.

"Fra Diavolo," as presented by the Persse-Mason company at Idora Park last night, was something of a sensation and more real thrills were injected into the play than have been seen at the park since the days of vaudeville. In the second act, for instance, the beautiful Zerline, dressed and retied in full view of the audience. Then there is the famous Lucia Sextette.

The final thrill comes in the last act when Fra Diavolo, in the person of Tom Persse, is ruthlessly slain by his pursuers and falls over a precipice and lands on the stage with all due effect and a superb thrust.

A Robert Lett does the vaudeville stunts. He proved funny in the role of one of the toughest looking bandits ever seen on any stage. Lett proved himself to be a comedian of more than ordinary ability and his antics kept the audience in a state of merriment.

Charles Swickard acted the part of the "blooming" English Lord in typical stage style and worked off a number of excellent jokes which were generally accepted.

Thomas Persse made a debonair bandit, making love to all the pretty girls in sight with reckless abandon and when the jig was up, he passed off with a soft unbroken.

As Zerline, Miss Mason is charming and Persse, Holmes did well as an English "old boy." A. H. Moser and J. P. Moore acted very nicely in the roles of Lorenzo and Matteo and Mabel Gogger did as Zerline did what little they had to do acceptably.

The Sextette comes as a finale to the second act and no lover of good music can afford to miss this.

Problems for Pupils and Parents

School days are full of problems for pupils and parents — problems that have to do with the proper nutrition of growing children.

Nothing so good for them as H-O, the oatmeal that is cooked in steam for three hours, then rolled and toasted—as different from ordinary "rolled oats" as raw corn meal is different from bread pudding. It costs a little more than the common "rolled oats" of commerce, but you'll willingly pay the price when you see how the youngsters thrive on it. Ask your grocer for H-O.

N. Y. GOVERNOR WARNS AGAINST DEMOCRAT

Is Now Flying Rapidly Through Dakotas on His Northwestern Tour—Voice in Good Condition.

WATERTOWN S. D., Oct. 6.—Swinging across the Dakotas in his tour of the northwest, Governor Charles E. Hughes, of New York, in a speech here this morning, declared he had become the thoroughly westernized.

"An eastern man is lucky when he gets into the west," Governor Hughes. "You westerners may have some prejudices against the east, personally, I like the western air; it agrees with me. It has restored my voice. There are many of us on the Atlantic coast who look longingly toward the great northwest. It is here we look for moral courage, vigor and intensity of purpose. I myself feel like a westerner, born in the east. I have left my own State to come out here, because of my interest in the present campaign."

TO DOWN DISHONESTY.

"This business of electing a President is not a mere matter of fanciful choice. I perceive that many of you are agriculturists. Your interests and the interests of the merchant and manufacturer are bound up in this campaign. You cannot divide the people off into sections and say you will do this for agriculture, this for labor, and that for the banker. We have all got to get together or we shall go down together; what we want is a wider opportunity for honest enterprise and relentless prosecution of dishonest enterprises."

"Twelve years ago we had a little quarrel. The question was whether we should enact laws that would honor us."

"Mr. Bryan told us then that he was essential to the safety of the country. We found out later that the safety of the country demanded his reputation. When I think of it, I am reminded of a bishop who was descending in a bucket down a mine with a workman. When they had gone a long way down the workman asked jokingly:

LESS THAN MINUTE.

"Bishop, how far is it to hell?" "Said the bishop: 'If that rope breaks, you would be there in less than a minute.'"

"There is no use in saying that Mr. Bryan will not be allowed to carry out his projects if elected. For, the country has said 'no' to most of the things he has proposed."

"Now he desires to exterminate trusts. How does he go about it? Does he first give a definition of the evils and then an outline of proposed legislation that will hit at wrongs?" "That is not his way. That is not the way. He proposes a cure-all that will catch the popular fancy for a moment."

REMEDIES NOT TRIED.

"The Democratic candidate seems to have a remedy for everything. If you don't like the one he shows, you, well, he has another which might appeal to you. But all of his remedies are untried."

"On the other hand, we have in the Republican party our candidate, a man who has distinguished himself in every line of effort, broad minded and worthy as his record shows, of confidence. There is no man in the country who requires a change from the Republican to the Democratic party. Everything which goes to conserve business, to incite a return to prosperity, everything that points to an honest enforcement of law makes it important that we should continue the Republican party in power. We have accomplished important reforms by legislation. It would be most unfortunate for the country if, at this critical time, we should give way to visionary proposals."

President May Come to Pacific Coast

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—The President is carefully watching the trend of events, and if reports during the next fortnight are not satisfactory, he will make a whirlwind trip to San Francisco, making a few speeches going and coming. If he makes the trip his most important utterances will be at the Pacific coast metropolis.

The only question now being considered by the President is whether his stumping tour would do more good than harm. He has an abundance of material, that has never been made public, much of it directly affecting the Pacific coast.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 6.—The intention of Russia to convoke a congress of the powers to discuss revision of the treaty of Berlin was the subject of lengthy conferences yesterday afternoon acting Minister of Foreign Affairs Ticharevitch and the diplomatic representatives of the powers interested.

These included the Turkish, British and Austro-Hungarian ambassadors. ## SUPERVISORS DECIDE TO EMPLOY PURCHASING AGENT FOR COUNTY

Action Taken This Morning and Position Given to D. McLaren at Salary of $200 a Month.

The Board of Supervisors today decided to employ a purchasing agent, whose duty it shall be to report to the Board of Supervisors continually what supplies are needed by the various officials, and to see that such supplies are bought. D. McLaren was given the position at a salary of $200 a month.

The purchasing agent shall make a monthly report to the Supervisors, which shall embody the amount of supplies bought for each county official.

GRAND JURY SO RECOMMENDED

This action was taken at the recommendation of the Grand Jury, which made a report that to employ a purchasing agent would save much money to the county. The same report included a recommendation that a system of bookkeeping should be devised for the county.

The commission of McLaren and Good for this work will be $1000.

It is understood that the county purchasing agent will not have anything to do with the purchasing of supplies for the county, but will be the county roads.

VOTING MACHINES.

In order to make the voters of the county familiar with the voting machines that will be used in the November election, a machine will be placed on the corner between the county jail and Alameda to San Francisco. If the railroad companies will permit this. They will be requested to do so today. Ten additional demonstrators of voting machines will be given to the county. Eight of them were named by the Supervisors this morning.

They are James Higgins, N. Bonemann, A. A. Demars, John Farrell, J. Burns, J. Mattos, M. J. Brennan and W. G. Chittenden. They are employed for a month at a salary of $100 a month each.

County Clerk Cook was given permission by the Supervisors to employ eleven clerks for a month to assist in the work of issuing voting instructions to voters. Each clerk is to be paid $100 a month.

GRAND JURY REPORT.

The report of the Grand Jury dealing with the employment of a purchasing agent and for the devising of a bookkeeping system reads as follows:

"The Grand Jury as a result of its investigation in county affairs, finds that the present system of the administration of the business affairs of the county is very poor, that the county can not get value received, or keep any check upon expenditures, by reason of the extremely poor system, and the Grand Jury believes that the employment of a purchasing agent and for the devising of a bookkeeping system reads as follows:

GIRL RUNS OFF WITH SOLDIER

With an angry family chasing them, Jesse Strader, a soldier, and sixteen-year-old Violet Fleet of Sausalito took the forty-foot boat this morning from Sausalito to the new home of the Santa Rosa National Bank to perfect organization in order to join the Clearing House Association. Frank A. Brush of the Santa Rosa National Bank was chosen president of the district comprised of the seven counties named above. Frank A. Johnson of the Bank of Sonoma County at Potluma was elected representative to the Clearing House Association.

Bank representatives met at Santa Rosa, Oct. 6.—Representatives of the principal banks of Sonoma, Marin, Napa, Solano, Lake, Humboldt, and Mendocino counties met here last night in the new home of the Santa Rosa National Bank to perfect organization in order to join the Clearing House Association. Frank A. Brush of the Santa Rosa National Bank was chosen president of the district comprised of the seven counties named above. Frank A. Johnson of the Bank of Sonoma County at Potluma was elected representative to the Clearing House Association.

According to Anita Fleet's story, told over the telephone, her sister is only sixteen years of age. She is five feet tall, weighs about 110 pounds, has chestnut hair, dark eyes, and wears a black velvet jacket and a check dress. Strader was dressed in civilian clothes at the time. He is five feet seven inches in height and weighs about 160 pounds.

Anita Fleet accused Strader of kidnapping her sister. The girl had been taken this morning, and their absence was not discovered until after the boat had left. The girl had gone. The male members of the family took the next boat, while the women and friends got to work with the wires.

ing, penetrated her arm. At the same time, with one thrust, he threw her to the side wall, and deliberately fired two more shots, both of which took effect in the right leg. He then gazed for one moment into the face of his wife as she lay moaning in pain, and, placing the revolver to his forehead, fired one shot just as S. I. of 575 Willow avenue, ran up and grabbed the weapon, but a second too late.

POLICE AT SCENE.

Policemen Kearny, Conlan and O'Brien Sullivan, hearing the shot, came up to the scene and the injured woman conveyed to the Emergency Hospital, where her wounds were dressed by Dr. Tillman. One of the men was notified and Gavin conveyed to the morgue. The dead man is about 35 years of age while his wife is some years younger.

The shooting occurred, as it is reported from 1110 Broadway street, at a large crowd of curious sightseers were quickly dispersed by Captain Gleason and his men almost as soon as they came.

EIGHT TIMES AS MANY MARRIAGES AS DIVORCES

Interesting Figures in Monthly Report Prepared by Deputy County Clerk Johnstone.

More than eight times as many marriage licenses were issued in Alameda county in the month of September of this year as there were final decrees of divorce granted. A report, compiled by Chief Deputy County Clerk A. S. Johnstone, and made public today shows that 251 licenses were issued, while only thirty-two final decrees of divorce were granted.

Of the divorce decrees granted twenty-seven were to women and five to men. Fifteen were on the ground of desertion, five for extreme cruelty, four for neglect, three for habitual intemperance and one for infidelity. Seven of the thirty-two couples had children.

The original Bulgarian plan was to allow Austria-Hungary to take the initiative in annexing Bosnia and Herzegovina and to proclaim her independence while the attention of the powers was occupied with this matter. It was really of, however, that intense declaration and appeal on the part of the powers to the same popular imagination and for the reason "Timor, the ancient capital of the kingdom of Bulgaria was chosen as the scene of the historic act.

The Board of Supervisors, at an expense not to exceed $1000.00, to recommend and devise a proper system in handling this matter.

EXPECT ECONOMY.

"The Grand Jury furthermore believes that the Board of Supervisors should select a competent and able man, at a salary, say $200 a month, to fill the position of purchasing agent, that all supplies for all county offices—printing of blanks, of books, etc., should be handled through the purchasing agent, that the purchasing agent should be a clerk who could assist him in the manual labor attached to the office, the purchasing agent should keep a complete set of books and file a monthly detailed comparative report each month with the Board of Supervisors; that the county officers should do all purchasing only through the purchasing agent."

DECLARES AMERICAN MOTHERS SEND DAUGHTERS TO SHAME UNDER SANCTION OF LAW

Rev. Homer J. Vosburgh Delivers Forceful Sermon in Baptist Church on the Modern Home.

"If we condemn the Japanese for selling their daughters for a life of shame, we must condemn American mothers who do the same thing within the forms of law and often with the pretended sanction of religion."

"Divorce, separation, scandal and disgrace are the inevitable and frequent outcome of a marriage conceived in selfishness and fostered by pride. How we have all been obliged to blush because of the unsavory experience of a member of the Gould family. This woman married a Frenchman whose character was notorious."

Thus spoke the Rev. Dr. Homer J. Vosburgh Sunday night in a sermon on "Money and Matrimony," the fourth in a series of lectures on "Home Making and Home Breaking," delivered before the congregation of the First Baptist Church. Then he continued:

WHAT IS DIFFERENCE.

"Mrs. Gould secured a divorce because her husband, as it was alleged, had been guilty of improprieties with women of his own class, yet what honor attaches to his class moral scientists have not been able to determine. His improprieties were confined to women of a lower class, as called. No domestic friction resulted, though how any class could be lower only those can decide who belong to the purulent 'new rich.'"

AFFECTION FOR ANOTHER.

"Now this woman has experienced a pretended affection for another man of exactly the same type as her former husband. With this man she went on a junketing tour across the Atlantic, through the Mediterranean and about Europe in the endeavor to find a place where religious connections were sufficiently low and legal requirements sufficiently lax to permit of another marriage. But for the shameless enormity of the whole scheme it would have produced a social epidemic."

WIDESPREAD DISEASE.

"As it is, it is indicative of a widespread disease. Just as politicians seek after available candidates, so women seek available parties for life. This is not confined to high life, it is seen in low life. Sorrow came to him as it comes to all others who marry for love instead of for love. Whether the consideration is five spoons, five thousand dollars or five million dollars, the transaction is a caricature of matrimony. In quite recently of a woman who formerly conducted the Hotel Crocker. Mrs. McGlynn, who is prostrated as the result of her nervous system, explained with great effort that on September 28th she received the following telegram:

"Mother, forgive. Stranded, sick and out of funds. Am in desperate straits. Send ticket and money. If you refuse it may cause my death."

"FRANCIS." Mrs. McGlynn paid no attention to the telegram, as she had received similar messages periodically for a number of years. The procedure of young Kern was to telegraph a wild appeal for aid and upon receiving it to convert the tickets into cash, which he spent riotously, together with any remittance which was sent.

FORCED TO MARRY.

He was married in Chicago on June 27 to Miss Anna Fernin, a Minneapolis girl. Kern wrote to his mother that he cared for her at first, but concluded the day after the marriage to leave her. He went to New York, taking rooms at 63 West Thirty-sixth street. Mrs. McGlynn wrote to him, calling attention to his unprofitable wandering and urging that he act honorably with his wife and settle down. To this Kern answered that he was going to leave his wife so that she could obtain a divorce on the ground of desertion. It was his intention to return to Chicago and marry a wealthy young woman to whom he said he was engaged. Kern's last pilgrimage began in May. He at one time attended St. Mary's College here.

our common speech we often betray a false estimate of our large values in connection with marriage. There is social hypocrisy as well as religious hypocrisy."

declares That the Labor Planks in the Democratic Platform Protect the Workmen.

ERRY, Iowa, Oct. 6.—William J. Bryan received a rousing welcome on the occasion of his arrival here today, where he delivered the first of three scheduled speeches from the many steps, to immense crowds. During the day he also will speak at Ames and Cedar Rapids. In his remarks he attacked the Republican party for failing to make public the campaign contributions and reiterated his charge that his was because he feared the light.

At Valley Junction, Bryan's speech, delivered from a stand erected on an adjoining the engine house, was listened to with rapt attention. The title of the duties of citizenship and obligations and blessings it conferred.

ASKS MEN TO VOTE.

"This remark had reference to the vote cast by the vice president in breaking a tie in the Senate on his question of Filipino independence in 1898."

"If," he said, "a man is ready to do something at the call of his country, ought he not to be more ready to do the little thing that is required of him to go to the polls on election day and along with lead pencil and his God make his vote represent free men's will."

He closed by calling attention to the labor planks of the Democratic platform, which he said pledged the party to remedy legislation in behalf of the workmen.

MADE HIM DO WORK OF HOUSE

Because of This and Other Things Frank Roderick Wants a Divorce From His Wife.

Things were turned around in the home of Frank and Mary Roderick at 718 Second street, according to a complaint for divorce he filed yesterday. Mrs. Roderick insisted on working in a cannery and her husband had to stay home and do the house work. She scratched him, he said, when he attempted to care for her, and she kicked him in the stomach when he thought to interest her in affairs of unity, as he complained.

He said that she hit him on the shoulder with an oil lamp and told him in public that she hated him and that they could never be happy.

THREW MONEY AT HIM. His complaint alleged that she pulled $40 from a hiding place and threw $20 on the floor at his feet told him that he could have no more and she looked so threateningly that he fled from the house with their small daughter. Mrs. Roderick also swore at him with distressing regularity and he resented her oaths as taunts leveled at his head. Roderick secured a restraining order to prevent her from disposing of the property or drawing their mutual bank account. He asked the custody of their two little girls.

The Question of Quality

We talk a great deal about quality, but not too much. The success of our business depends not on the price you pay for goods, but on the service you get out of them.

Prices for everything are higher than they used to be; and consumers object to it. Most merchants, instead of helping their customers to understand it, and to the importance of quality, are reducing the standard so as to maintain fixed prices. This is not our way.

We are persistently obstinate about quality. We demand the closest spot cost price from the producer, we take advantage of all discounts, we sell as close to cost as safe merchandising will permit. These facts explain why we make steady gain even during periods of business depression.

Hosiery of Quality

Perhaps within a few miles of us a thousand people are selling Hosiery. That is keen competition, but we are aware of it, we have studied it, and we have mastered it.

All stores sell hosiery at 25c, 3 pairs for more satisfaction, more real worth than the stockings than in any hosiery sold elsewhere at the same price.

And our guarantee—the reputation of H. C. Capwell Co.'s store—is behind every pair.

Broadcloths of Quality

We're always strong on broadcloth, and our second shipment, for this season just arrived, lifts even our standard a notch higher.

TAX REFORM ASKED BY SPEAKER

PROFESSOR PLEHN

Declares That Farm Lands
Are Overburdened and That the Various Corporations
Get Off Easy.

BERKELEY, Oct. 6.—Professor Carl C. Plehn, in his address before the College of Commerce this morning, spoke on the tax reform amendments which are to be submitted to the voters at the coming election.

Professor Plehn made a plea for the adoption of both, the said in part: "One of the amendments provides for the repeal of the annual part of the California mortgage tax which is left still on the statute books. This tax was an improvement on the old one. It taxed the owner of the land on the difference between the value of his land and the amount of the mortgage upon it.

ANY OVERTAXED.
"The other amendment proposes to amend our entire tax system. Real estate and business taxes have been heavily overtaxed. Personal property has not been increased since 1872. The heavy tax on agricultural lands has been one of the reasons why some of the richest farming sections in the State have been decreasing in population. ## CITY COUNCIL FIXES TAX RATE AT $1.30; MAYOR PROMPTLY VETOES THE MEASURE

Routine Business Is Transacted by Alameda
Body

ALAMEDA, Oct. 6.—At a meeting of the City Council last night a resolution adopting a tax rate of $1.30 was passed and immediately vetoed by the mayor. When the letter of the mayor was read the lobby was the scene of great excitement and applause. In his communication Mayor Taylor stated that he thought the city's business could very comfortably be conducted on a $1.25 basis, but that a $1.25 rate would not be objectionable.

A communication from the Ransome Construction Company asking that the city accept the work done by the company on the Webster street roadway was read, and on motion accepted.

An application of residents for an electric light in the vicinity of Bligh street and Haight avenue was read and referred to the electricity commission.

FIGHTS STREET OPENING.

The question of opening Blanding avenue came up for discussion. George E. Low, president of the Low Pump Works, was present on invitation to give his reasons why the work of opening the street should not be proceeded with.

Low stated that his company was preparing to spend $600,000 in installing a modern factory and that if the street went through he would be compelled to look elsewhere for a factory site.

The motion authorizing the city attorney to draw up articles of intention was repeated and the council will look over the proposed street on Thursday afternoon.

The mayor was authorized to appoint a park and playground committee subject to the approval of the Council. Councilman Frost objected to another commission being appointed.

A bill for $10 for dues to the League of California Municipalities was referred to the committee of the whole for action.

The Sather Detate Company offered the city a deed to property to be used as a continuation of Mount street, between Central and Santa Clara avenues. The deed was accepted and filed.

Twelve contractors bid bids for the extension of the new Wobay avenue from house on file with the city clerk. The four lowest of these, those of James M. Dwyer $14,879, Lambert & Neve, $16,000, L. Swenson $17,310, and Hamilton & Riley $19,672, were referred to the street and police commission and committee of the whole for action.

The report of the finance committee recommending that a tax rate of $1.30 be levied was read and placed on the City Engineer's agenda. An opinion that the said amount on the outside of the Webster street roadway was not dry enough to permit the commencement of the improvement of the road. He stated that as the road during the summer had been a dredger only a short time ago it had not had sufficient time to dry out. On his recommendation was decided to let the filling stand until spring before commencing work.

WANT FENCE TAKEN DOWN.

Assessor J. M. Smith was granted two weeks in which to make his extension of the tax rolls. He was also on proposed to employ three extra men at a salary not to exceed $3 per day during that period.

Chas. E. Fletcher was awarded the contract to sewer Mustick terrace.

City Clerk Browning was instructed to accept for bids for painting and painting the walls of the basement of the city hall and police station.

C. G. Haglund, representing Mrs. E. J. Jones, presented before the board of health the action of the Council at the last meeting, authorizing James Tyson to construct a fence across the south end of Sherman street. He requested that the action of the Council be rescinded. Haglund said that the fence was a plot to prevent the said people from gaining access to their property on the beach and hauling sand therefrom. He stated that if the city allowed the fence to be erected it would have a law suit on its hands. Tyson also spoke. He asked to pay all the costs and damages in case an action or judgment be secured against the city. No action was taken.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

"TRY COKE FOR YOUR GRATES AND FURNACES" SAYS COAL EXPERT

MANAGER OF THE AMERICAN FUEL CO. ADVISES
AGAINST USE OF COAL FOR CERTAIN PURPOSES.
SAYS CALIFORNIANS DON'T UNDERSTAND
HOW TO ECONOMIZE ON FUEL.

"The trouble with Californians, as far as the fuel business is concerned, is that they don't know how to pick out the most economical fuel for each of their various requirements," said T. J. Copeland to a Tribune reporter this morning. "And it is all in account of the fact that we have so few cold days that people don't have to think of their fuel as a very great problem. Now, take domestic coke, for instance. Hundreds of people don't even know what domestic coke is and think it some sort of substance that is hard to light and harder still to burn, when as a fact, it can be lit with a newspaper and ordinary kindling wood the same as coal is lit, and gives out a tremendous amount of heat.

"Of course this domestic coke is not good for cooking, because the flame is too short to go around the oven," continued Mr. Copeland. "But for grates and furnaces it is just the fuel to use, because it burns so much longer and steadier than coal. In fact, it has been demonstrated that a ton of coke will last longer than a ton and a half of coal, and when you consider that it costs no more than coal you can readily see how much can be saved by its use. Furthermore, coke contains over 80 per cent of fixed carbon, which is the heat giving element of coal, while ordinary coal only contains about 55 per cent of carbon. So you see it is not only cheaper because it burns longer, but also because it is a great deal hotter."

Mr. Copeland went on to say that this domestic coke gave out no smoke and was really healthier to burn in an open fireplace than coal. There is only a limited supply of domestic coke on this market, which will probably all be spoken for within the next few days. The American Fuel Co., 1217 Broadway, will fill orders as long as the supply lasts at the rate of 70c a sack or $13.00 a ton. All orders can be placed into California 776 or Home phone A-1670, or Berkeley 1729.

The American Fuel Co. are the people who are advertising American Block Coal so extensively, the wonderful kitchen coal that has created such a furore in this city during the past thirty days. And although they have proven beyond all question of doubt that American Block Coal is the most desirable cooking fuel ever placed upon this market, at the same time they do not recommend it for heavy furnace and grate use.

As Mr. Copeland explained, American Block Coal is a free, hot, bright, clean, smokeless coal that sends out a long, hot, blazing heat that completely surrounds the oven and all without a draft. If this fine coal is put in a grate where there is a draft up the chimney it will burn, too fast to be economical, and although it will give out a big heat and make a very cheerful fire, will not give out the heat coke will not burn so long.

The American Fuel Co. are willing and anxious to consult with all people who burn fuel and will advise them without prejudice upon the proper fuel to burn in their particular fireplace or stove. Mr. T. J. Copeland is a fuel expert, sent out here to California from Colorado to study fuel conditions, and he will gladly tell you one what fuel they can use most economically.

"We don't care whether we sell coal, coke, wood or charcoal," said Mr. Copeland. "We carry several kinds of coal and all kinds of fuel and we make just as much on one as another, but we want to set people right. If everybody burned the fuel best suited to their requirements a great deal of money now wasted could be saved."

American Block Coal is unquestionably a most unusual coal for cooking purposes. It sells for 60c a sack or $11 a ton for the egg size, and will heat an oven in less than ten minutes after the fire is lit.

Phone all orders to Oakland 770 or Home phone A-1670, or call at the office, 1217 Broadway, opposite Ye Liberty Theater. You can tell the place by the big brass coal end out in front.

A Berkeley office has just been established which can be reached by telephoning Berkeley 1729.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 6.—Just to put the "Indian sign" on Stanford's chances of winning the coming football game the Berkeley college men, 1890 strong, last night held a spontaneous rally and illuminated "Boo-in" as a closing ceremony. The gathering began among the fraternity houses about Dowditch and Durant avenues and gathering numbers, increasing in noise and led by Yell leader H. N. Fitch, the line started eastward, up Front street, down Ridge road, up Virginia and back on Hearst to the Ch. Phi house, where a cheer was given for Captain Ralph Butler. The line reformed and, tramping south, filed and wound through the campus to the College avenue entrance, coming to a halt on the bleachers on California field. Here speeches were made by Varsity captain Cowles, Myers and Witter, President McElbreen of the Associated Students, J. J. Hayes, president of a senior class, and Earl York. The singing was heard all over the east section of Berkeley. Then came the burial of the famous old Berkeley song, "Boo-in." Yell leader Fitch leading its singing for the last time.

20 MULES COULD NOT DRAG WOMAN TO COURT

ALAMEDA, Oct. 6.—Judge Tappan said this morning that a twenty mule team would not drag Mrs. Delaney Truax, who swore Saturday to a warrant charging a former Japanese employee with the theft of a diamond brooch and chain into court. Upon investigation the brooch was found to have a small clear diamond having a remarkable resemblance to glass and the chain was brass. When Mrs. Truax swore to the complaint for the original arrest she said her valuation had been stolen over two years ago, while he was in her employ. He came back last Saturday for a day's work and was wearing the brooch and chain as a watch fob. After his arrest he was released on $500 bail and on the dismissal of the case this morning this amount was returned to him.

Clark has gone to Placerville, and it was thought by his bondsmen that he had hanged his bond. He was located at that place Sunday, and Detective town was detailed to bring him home. ## CIVIC SECTION PLANS PROGRAM.

The Civic Section of the Ebell Club arranged a most interesting program for its members this afternoon, when Miss Kate Ames, the well-known educator, discussed the subject of "Women on School Boards." This matter is one of vital interest to the club women and their friends and called forth a large attendance. Miss Ames was at one time a county superintendent of schools in this State.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of Ebell clubhouse building association was held yesterday morning at the building on Harrison street. There was a large attendance, the reports of the president and secretary bringing forth much enthusiasm.

More stock was subscribed and the subscription list was increased by new names, numerous renewals being made. During the year $1500 of the company's indebted debt was paid off. Officers elected were Mrs. R. W. Kinney, president; Mrs. J. E. Hume, vice-president; Mrs. J. C. Powell, treasurer; Mrs. M. de L. Hadley, Mrs. John A. Beckwith, Mrs. W. E. Sharon, Mrs. W. R. Davis and Mrs. E. C. Morrison, directors.

ORPHEUS CLUB CONCERT.

The Orpheus Club concert which was given at the Liberty Playhouse last evening, called forth an audience of music lovers who thoroughly enjoyed the musical treat presented.

Mrs. Beatrice Fino, the soloist, was heard for the first time in concert since her return from New York. She received a warm and enthusiastic reception and graciously responded to two recalls after her first number, the fascinating Tosca aria "Non la Soepliri." Mrs. Fino's voice is abounding in temperament and displays the cultivation and broadening which she has accomplished since her last visit to the coast. This talented singer will give a concert at Ebell Auditorium on November 2, when her audience will have an opportunity to hear her in a program which will cover a varied style of work.

The chorus work was up to its usual standard, every number being so well rendered as to forbid mentioning one excellent the other. Edwin Dunbar Crandall is the director of the club and Arthur Pickensher accompanist.

Everything is working well and harmoniously at the home and it is hoped that a handsome sum may be realized at the approaching festival which is an annual event of the organization. A prominent business man of Oakland recently remarked that the West Oakland Home asked the least aid from the public and gave the most practical aid where it was most needed.

ACTRESS WILL SUE MANAGER WHO DECLARED HER ACT WAS VULGAR AND ORDERED HER OFF THE STAGE

BALTIMORE, Oct. 6. — Enraged at what he declared the most suggestive act he had ever seen on the vaudeville stage during his experience of forty years, James L. Kernan, owner of the Maryland Theater, of this city, ordered Virginia Earle and her act, "When Salome Meets the Devil," cut out of the bill. Mr. Kernan said today:

"I told Miss Earle she couldn't go on again with that disgustingly vulgar thing she called an act, and I meant it. I sat in a box and watched the act, and when the Devil came on I thought I'd drop with heart disease. I was shaking all over like a leaf and it was all I could do to keep from jumping on the stage and throwing the whole act out of the window. I knew it wouldn't do for me to go back there, so I sent her word that her act couldn't be played in this house."

"Her dance with the Devil and the kissing scene were absolutely nauseating. Her costume was the costume of Salome, but the whole act was so bold and daring that it couldn't possibly play in this house."

With her playing partner, Albert Pollard, Miss Earle is hurrying back to New York.

"I'm going to sue Mr. Kernan," she said before leaving, "not only for my week's salary here, but for every week of my forty-week season that may be cancelled on account of being cut out here. My contract here calls for only $300 for the week, but it was a twenty-week, and my loss will run into thousands, which Mr. Kernan will have to pay."

"He said my act was vulgar, yet Adelaide was here as Salome, and when he gets Tarrany and Gertrude Hoffman as Salome in tight, he'll open his eyes. Why, there is not a vulgar or suggestive line or situation in my whole act. I wear fleshings all over the upper part of my body and down on the arms several inches, and I'm covered with beads. There is not even the least bit of kissing."

"I'll show the court whether this is vulgar or not. I'll do the whole act in court before a jury and the audience just exactly as it was done on the stage of the Maryland Theater. I'll build a stage in the court room and have all the light effects, and the music and everything, and I'll do the act from start to finish—if I can't get the court to go to some theater. Vulgar? The idea!"

TAKE CENSUS OF STANDING TREES

Government Anxious to Find Out How Long Timber
Supply Will Last.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6. — The national conservation commission has caused the first comprehensive attempt at the census of the standing timber in the United States ever undertaken. The commission needs the information to help complete its inventory of the country's natural resources, which it will include in its report to the President and since that report is to be submitted on the first of next year, it needs the information at once. In consequence the work on the census has been started with a rush and is now well under way.

Estimates to the amount of standing timber in the United States range all the way from $22,862,000,000 to 2,000,000,000,000 board feet, a difference of more than a trillion feet in the views of the best qualified authorities in the country.

ACCURATE STATISTICS.
In the opinion of the forest service the most carefully prepared estimates yet made are those by Henry Canot, published by the twelfth census in 1900, which placed the total stumpage at 1,800,000,000 board feet. Canot was recently chosen by the President to compile all the information gathered for the commission. The census is expected to give an accurate basis for computing how long our timber supplies will last.

The consensus of opinion is that the present annual consumption of wood is about 100,000,000,000 board feet, or something more than that. A leading authority has placed it as high as 150,000,000,000 board feet. Assuming that stumpage of 1,400,000,000,000 board feet and neglecting growth in the calculation the exhaustion of our timber supply is indicated in fourteen years and assuming the same use and stand with an annual growth of 40,000,000,000 feet, a supply for twenty-three years is indicated.

BALLAD CONCERT WILL BE GIVEN

Affair Is to Be Held for the Benefit of St. Andrews'
Building Fund.

A grand ballad concert is announced for Thursday evening, October 22, at the Macdonough Theater, for the benefit of the building fund of St. Andrews' parish. The young pastor, Rev. Father Quinn, is deservedly popular, both on this side of the bay and in San Francisco, where for many years he was an assistant priest at St. Brendan's church.

His devotion to the poor and the sick, and especially his constant and gentle kindness to the patients at old St. Mary's Hospital, won for him many admirers and staunch friends.

Among the distinguished names he has already secured for his program are to be found those of Father Robert Leach and Frank Ferguson. As soon as the list is complete his other participants will be made known.

William F. Kane Appears for Preliminary Examination on Two Charges.

William F. Kane, formerly secretary of the Forum Cafe on Broadway, appeared in the police court this morning for preliminary examination on a charge of felony embezzlement preferred against him by William H. Brown, manager of the cafe and who had been a life-long friend of the accused man.

Kane was arrested and three charges of felony embezzlement were filed against his name. While it is said that the total shortage is about $5000, the three charges aggregate the sum of $1408.45. It is alleged that Kane embezzled the sum of $412.10 and $446.15 during the month of July, 1907, and $550.20 during the month of June of the same year. He is being examined today on the specific charge of embezzling $417.10.

First Wife Says He Procured a Western Divorce by Fraud.

Ure Merchant states she heard last summer that her husband claimed to be divorced and she avers that upon investigation she found he had procured a decree November 21, 1901 and had remarried January 1, 1907 taking his second wife to live with him in Woodbury.

The bill recites that Merchant was never a legal resident of Illinois and that the divorce is void.

The clergyman read it and smiled.

She was considered unattainable by the artists, but one of them asked her to pose for a painting. She was refused until she consented to pose for Mr. Major. Then the girl was spirited out of her surroundings here and Mr. Major's friends were treated with a sensation when the couple were married in Boston about six years ago. Until she was married, she thrilled with the idea of winning fame on the stage as an operatic singer, but she thought only of her husband's career.

GOSSIP FOR THE BOXING FANS

The next boxing show to be held in this city will be at the Reliance Athletic Club's old gymnasium at the Piedmont Hotel, and for the occasion a star card is being signed. Bob Egan and Fred Cooley and Fred Ward and Sam Nelson will supply the main events, and Young Turner and Otto Fitch will appear in the first of the six-round bouts. In the preliminary Kild Burn, Fred Cooley and T. Ellis, the Alameda cyclone, will appear, making the list of events exceptionally strong.

That old Turner-Fitch feud will not die, and unless either one or the other of the young men with the next time out the fans will get wild with expectation. When Turner fouled the Dubliner the last time the two simply started bawling, and they are simply demanding another match. Turner says he will make a great bid this time for the long end of the money, and Fitch refused another match in the past. He is getting more money, which is a good thing, and after that it is sincerely hoped the feeling of rivalry will subside.

Eddie Miller is still anxiously looking over the field for a match, and through his manager, Joe Cabral, he has been challenged to a fight with the Alameda cyclone, who is now being trained by the same coach. Leardi could do worse than sign
